

Offering a high quality of life, Newport News' residents enjoy living in a variety of family oriented communities, including condominiums, single-family homes and multi-family complexes. The neighborhoods of Newport News tend to be expansive, friendly and full of trees.

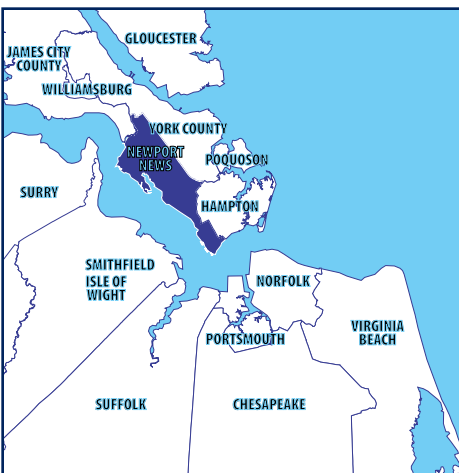

Home to Newport News Shipbuilding, Hampton Roads' largest private employer, many other "support" businesses are located nearby. The area's nautical history comes alive at The Mariners' Museum, while the city offers visitors and residents the variety of the Virginia Living Museum, Newport News Park and the Peninsula Fine Arts Center, among other activities.

World-class attractions, over 30 public parks, lots of annual fairs, festivals and special events, as well as great places to golf, dine, shop and spend the night are all part of Newport News. Best of all, Newport News has a variety of activities for every family member, especially the young and young at heart. At over 8,000 acres, Newport News Park is the largest municipal park east of the Mississippi River, with plenty of outdoor recreation opportunities, including camping, hiking, biking, canoeing, floral gardens, disc golf, fishing, archery, nature programs, paddleboats and two 18-hole golf courses. You can also try to catch a Chesapeake Bay Blue Crab or one of many varieties of saltwater fish found in the mighty five-mile-wide James River. Newport News is also conveniently located minutes from Williamsburg and a short drive to Virginia Beach.

With a wide variety of activities and attractions, as well as offering a high quality of life — Newport News is a wonderful place to be.
